

Dr. Johnson's leadership skills, both during and after his formal studies in medicine, were refined from his service in the United State Army Medical Corp from 1991 to 2000. At Bayne Jones Army Community Hospital in Fort Polk, LA, he was: Staff Physician in the Department of Internal Medicine; Chief of the same department; Director of its Cardio-Pulmonary Clinic; Chairman of the Medical Records Review and Drug Utilization Committees; and, Member of the Risk Management and Pharmacology & Therapeutics Committees.

His numerous scholarships, fellowship awards and Army medical medals speak for themselves: Wesley and Dolecheck Academic Scholarships; National Medical Fellowships – Franklin C. McLean and William & Charlotte Cadbury Awards; and, three Army Achievement Medals.

Dr. Johnson has been in private practice since 2000 and is very astute on practice management practices. However, he is equally keen on the importance of not simply running a sound medical practice, but how well that practice is presented to its patients and the community. As such, he has been and continues to be very involved in his practice community. He has been the Commissioner of the City of Frisco's Planning & Zoning Board and a member of its' Downtown Master Plan Committee. He has been a board member of the Frisco Family Services Center and its Convention & Visitors' Bureau, as well as a participant in Vision North Texas-Understanding Our Options For Growth. And, he is an active volunteer physician, assisting in the healthcare of Collin County's indigent, of Project Access Collin County (PACC).

We nominate and endorse Dr. Bryan G. Johnson for AMA Board of Trustees.
